and making it work.

Battle of the Sexes

Saturday Evening at 8 ($25) RATED R

FEBRUARY 17

Complimentary Wine 'n Cheese Party at 7:30

Rapunzel:

A Brush With Fate

Given away at birth. Locked alone in a tower. An evil witch for a mother and now SPLIT ENDS! Talk about your bad hair day! But it's nothing a confident young girl with a dream, a song and an industrial strength hair dryer can't cure.

SATURDAYS at 11 AM and SUNDAYS at 2 PM ($15)

MARCH 3-18

CONTEMPORARY AND CLASSICAL DRAMAS

During World War I, hundreds of young women went to work in New Jersey clock factories, painting watch dials with luminous radium paint. But after the girls — who literally glowed in the dark after their shifts — began to experience gruesome side effects, they began a race-against-time fight for justice that would forever change US labor laws.

RADIUM GIRLS

MAY 4

(Also plays
Weekdays at 10 AM:
April 18-May 25)

A disturbing, provocative and important play about one woman's revenge on the man who would rape her in her own home. In a magnificent, unrelentingly violent reversal, the victim becomes the attacker, the predator becomes the prey in this "searing, jolting psychological thriller that reaches a climax of fever pitch suspense."

I am not your victim.
I am not your prey.
I will not be silenced

Extremities

by William Mastrosimone
Directed by Stan Barber

Friday, Sept. 7 and Saturdays, Sept. 8, 15, 22 at 8 PM
